

COVID-19 Update from Camp K9: Adapting in Every Way

March 28, 2020

A video message from our CEO, Rory Diamond, on how K9s For Warriors is adapting its warrior & K9 operations due to COVID-19/coronavirus

Dear Supporters,

First of all, we hope that you and your families are all safe and well in these extraordinary times for our country. Health is our greatest wealth, and we want that for you just as much as we do for the veterans and rescue dogs we serve.

We want to assure you that K9s For Warriors' response to COVID-19 has been one that keeps the health and safety of our warriors, Service Dogs-in-training, volunteers and staff as a top priority. We've made adjustments to operate even more efficiently, cutting costs wherever possible and assigning staff who can to telecommute. Those staff that must come in to feed, water, and provide clean kennels for our dogs practice social distancing and CDC-recommended sanitation guidelines throughout campus.

In these heightened times of isolation, our Warrior Relations team is working even harder to check in with our 600+ warriors who might be experiencing greater difficulties. We reach them every day through phone and video calls, emails and text messages, being the family they rely on us to be. We postponed our April class and will re-schedule them when it is responsible to do so.

Our 67 Service Dogs-in-training are still receiving quality care (and lots of love!) from our dedicated kennel staff and veterinary technicians.

This is a highly challenging time for every American, but some of our nation's greatest moments have come from joining together for causes in which we believe. For those who can support K9s For Warriors' lifesaving mission during these times, know that your support goes farther than ever in showing veterans that their country is there for them like they were there for us. And, as a donor, you can trust that we are there for you. Each donor receives personal communications from us, thanking you for your generous support. We do not take you for granted, and neither do our veterans or rescue dogs.

Here's how you can help:

The most helpful support right now is a donation. Whether $10 or $1,000, each dollar goes towards saving two lives - a shelter dog and a veteran both hoping for a chance at a better life.

Please Donate

Also, as you online shop at Amazon, you can choose us as your AmazonSmile charity. Just go to AmazonSmile and select K9s For Warriors as your charity. You will not be charged a penny more, and the exact same merchandise is available.

We thank you for staying in touch with us, and for your compassion for the veterans and rescue dogs who need America's love the most right now.

Sincerely,

Rory Diamond
