

Hi, just a reminder that you're receiving this email because you have expressed an interest in K9s For Warriors. Don't forget to add info@k9sforwarriors.org to your address book so we'll be sure to land in your inbox!

You may unsubscribe if you no longer wish to receive our emails.

The banner features a top section with a close-up of the American flag. Below the flag is a logo on the left showing a silhouette of a person with a dog and an American flag, with the text "K9S FOR WARRIORS" underneath. To the right of the logo, the title "K9 CONNECT" is written in large, bold, black letters, followed by "K9s FOR WARRIORS MONTHLY NEWSLETTER" in a smaller font. Below the text is a row of five small photographs showing various people and their service dogs in outdoor settings. At the bottom right of the banner, the text "Stay Connected" is followed by icons for Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, and Instagram.

July 2019

In Case You Missed It...

The New York Times just published an article months in the making about the current state of service dog support - or lack thereof - within the government and VA. Most of the news will surprise you. Overall, it shows that what we do - and what you support - works to help our struggling veterans. Read it here.

Do Service Dogs Help Treat PTSD? V.A. Still Doesn't Know

Warrior Update

Our warrior-canine teams take their new "leashes" on life all over the world! Recently, Shilo & Javelin took a vacation to Germany, and Javelin didn't skip a beat. Shilo told us:

"I am absolutely in awe of how great Javie is at adapting to different schedules and places and he manages to stay focused and do his job no matter the circumstances. This moment, like several others I've seen in the last 4 years, brings HOPE and a THANKFUL HEART for my family's miracle, JAVIE."

Training Update

July's class of 7 warrior-canine teams graduated last Thursday. They also happened to be featured in a group photo in the NY Times article posted above. Here they are during one of their last training days at the St. John's Town Center in Jacksonville, Fla.

Forward this email

STAY CONNECTED

K9s For Warriors is a 501(C)3 nonprofit. Copyright 2017. All rights reserved.